Biography

Jade Deshayes is a Paris-based photographer and filmmaker celebrated for her ability to immortalize the sublime within the banal and capture ephemeral moments with a sophistication that borders on the cinematic. Her use of warm, natural lighting imbues her work with an authentic and often intimate atmosphere, revealing gestures and attitudes that unveil the true essence of her subjects, whether models or ordinary individuals. Her distinctive style is marked by unexpected layers found in her work, playing with humor, angles, or compositions, ultimately transforming mundane scenarios into visually arresting tableaux.

Her unique perspective has garnered her collaborations with prominent brands such as Dior, Aigle, Nespresso, Puma, Square, and Table. Her editorial contributions have also been featured in distinguished publications including M Le Monde, Cara Magazine.
